Tuesday, October 7. 1718.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated Oct. 7.

Naples, September 13.

THE Viceroy having received Letters from Reggio, written by General Wetzel and Admiral Byng, causes all the Tartanes that are in our Ports to be assembled with all Diligence, to transport a greater Number of Troops to Sicily, for the more easy Reduction of that Kingdom. Besides the Infantry that are imbarcking, there is an entire Regiment of Horse to be sent. The Tartanes which serv'd in the former Expeditions in the Month of August, are ordered for Final, to embark there the Troops come from Milan, and transport them to Sicily. A Camp is form'd at two Miles from Reggio, for the Troops which march thither from all Sides. An English Man of War has taken and carried to Sicily, a French Ship with Spanish Colours, laden with Ammunition and Provisions, and 40 Cannons. A Galley was sent from hence with Letters and Money for the Viceroy Count Maffei, at Syracuse, but the Populace and Spaniards who were assembled thereabouts, to the Number of 5000, hinder'd her Landing, so that we have not yet Advice of it.

Milan, Sept. 21. On Sunday last the Companies of the Regiment of Conigsbeck, which were in Garrison in the Castle, departed for Pavia, where they will join the rest of that Regiment; and then march with the Regiment of Bareith to Genoa, to be there imbark'd and transported to Sicily.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated Oct. 11.

Leghorn, Sept. 21. Three English Transport ships arrived here in eight Days from Reggio, whither they had retired after they had quitted the Spanish Service, report, that the Citadel of Messina continued to defend it self very courageously, and is daily succour'd from Reggio. That Admiral Byng was in that Port with eight Men of War, the rest being gone to cruize round the Coasts of Sicily. And that there are 10000 Imperialists at Reggio, which lie ready to be transported to Sicily, alsoon as the Term given to the Marquis de Lede by Admiral Byng to retire is expired. We just now hear, that the Citadel defended it self still on the 15th of this Month.

From the Rotterdam Courant, dated Oct. 10.

Milan, Sept. 27. An Express is arrived here from Vienna, who brings Advice to General Wath, tendock, that the Emperour has named him Generalissimo of all his Troops in Italy. Eight Regiments are already march'd from this City, and the General himself will set forwards in a few Days for Naples, to take Possession of his Office.

From the Rotterdam Courant, dated Oct. 12.

Turin, Sept. 23. This Day arrived here a Courier from the Court of Vienna, with Dispatches from the Marquis de St. Thomas, the Contents whereof are not yet known; but there runs a Report, that the Treaty of Alliance between the Emperour and his Royal Highness is concluded, and that he has brought it to be ratified; and 'tis even affirmed, that his Imperial Majesty has by this Treaty granted to him all the Pretensions he makes upon divers Estates in the Milanese, and other Places belonging to the Austrian Family, which shall be resign'd to him, according to the Treaty of the late Emperour Leopold, to be possess'd and enjoy'd as his own, without being oblig'd to receive any Investiture thereof from his Imperial Majesty. But it is not pretended to be said that the Emperour gives him any Equivalent for the Kingdom of Sicily. The Regiment of Dragoons of the Prince of Piedmont, which is quarter'd at Carmagnola, as also the Regiment of the White Cross, have received Orders to march to Nissa, in order to be imbark'd there, and transported to the Kingdom of Naples.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated Oct. 11.

Vienna, Sept. 24. Count Fleming, who arriv'd in this City a few Days ago, has had Audience of the Emperour, of whom it is said he has demanded on the part of the King his Master in Consequence of his Alliances, the necessary Succours for maintaining the Repose of Poland. To which 'tis said his Imperial Majesty answer'd that he had all possible Regard for the King his Master, and look'd upon him as a good Ally; but with respect to the Demand he made, it was necessary that all the Body of the Republick should make it in a Solemn Manner: Which 'tis not doubted will be resolv'd upon in the Diet, and that a Senator will be sent with the requisite Commissions for obtaining this Succours. The Representations made at this Court on the part of the King of Sweden, in behalf of the Protestants of Silesia, have had the desired Success; seeing the Emperour has caus'd the Minister of his Swedish Majesty to be answer'd, that it was his Intention that the Treaty made between the Emperour Joseph of glorious Memory and the King of Sweden, should have its entire Accomplishment.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Oct. 6.

Vienna, Sept. 24. Count Steinville, Governour of Transylvania, hath named Colonel Schram with two other Officers and an Interpreter to be Commissioners for settling with the Turks the Limits in Walachia. Commerce begins again to flourish between us and the Turks on the Frontiers. We understand that the Emperour has named Duke Alexander of Wirtemberg to be Governour of Belgrade. The Direction of the Imperial Offices which the Count de Paer had obtain'd by a Sum of Money, will be recall'd, and his Money restored, which will take place in the Beginning of the next Year.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Sept. 11.

Christiania, Sept. 27. The Swedes lie at present four Leagues from Drontheim, and having cut off a certain Post wherein a Lieutenant commanded, the Garrison were obliged to surrender. At another Post there was a sharp Action, wherein our Infantry behaved themselves very well, but the Enemy being stronger in Horse than we, they gain'd the Advantage; wherefore Order is given for some of our Cavalry to march that Way. Encounters frequently happen between the two Fleets near Idelford. Thro' the great Droughts the Enemy have the Advantage, being thereby enabled to march over the Morasses and Ditches.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Oct. 8.

Hamburg, Oct. 4. We hear from Stockholm, that the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel was come come thither from Stromstad, and was gone with the Princess his Consort to Drotningholm, and after his Return, 'tis believ'd he will tarry some Weeks at Stockholm. It has been again proclaimed there, that all Ships coming in hereafter must pay the Customs in Silver Money, and that the Goods they buy must be paid for in the same Money. We hear from Petersburg, that the Czar returned thither the 14th of last Month with his Fleet from Abo, and 'tis talk'd that the Ships will be laid up. The same Advices say further, that his Czarish Majesty has presented the Swedish Field-Marshal Rhinschild with a very rich Sword, and that the Prussian Envoy M. de Mardefeld, who has been on board the Fleet, and at the Island where the Conference is held, is come back, and will go with the Russian Envoy to the King of Sweden. The Markgrave, who is betrothed to the Duchess Dowager of Courland, will be acknowledged Duke of Courland. We hear from Hanover, that Orders were given to both the Infantry and Cavalry to hold themselves ready to march by the 5th Instant, to rendezvous, the former near Lunenburg, and the latter near Ultsen; and that the Wolfembüttel Troops are to be there also at the same time. 'Tis believ'd they will all march to the Territory of Bontzenburg; to take Possession of it; and that the Imperial Troops will also advance, in Order to undertake with them the Execution against the Duke of Mecklenburg.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Oct. 12.

Hamburg, Oct. 7. We have Letters from Stockholm of the 14th of last Month, which say that the King of Sweden was in some Doubt, whether to second the Invasion his General Ahrenfeld has made thro' Jemterland into Norway; or whether to pursue his Designs on the Side of Swinesund. In the mean time General Ahrenfeld has Orders to march directly to Drontheim, and to attack that City. 'Tis said at Stockholm, that there is more appearance of a general Peace in the North, than of a separate one with the Czar. By the freshest Letters from Stromstad we have Advice, that Baron Gortz was come thither the 7th of September; and the Count de la Marq, Minister of the French Court, was expected. The King of Sweden has, in respect to Stanislaus, resolv'd to make General Poniatowsky Governour of Deux Ponts, in place of the Baron Stralenheim.

London, October 7.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from France, The Paris News Letter says, they heard from Genoa, that a Ship was arrived there the 28th of September from Palermo, whence she sail'd the 26th; the Master whereof reported, that just as he came away, they received Advice from Messina, that the Governour of the Citadel hung out a white Flag, and demanded to capitulate. But the same Writer in his Article from Paris, dated Oct. 12, says, they had no News of the Citadel of Messina.
